

Name This Piece

This piece is in marble and it's 21" high x 7" wide x 9" deep. The piece was originally a rectangular lamp base with a large cylindrical hole in it as part of the design. In the back of the base was a vertical spine where an arc lamp would have been inserted.

This piece with no name is being reserved for a "Name This Piece" promotion intended for galleries or museums. This promotion would draw a lot of attention to the parties that participate in it and it could create a substantial market for the piece itself and reproductions of this piece in various sizes. What would you name this piece? See how much fun it can be, and imagine how much interest it can generate, especially if there is a big cash prize to win! If you would like to participate in this promotion, give me a call and let's discuss it in more detail.

About the Artist:

Robert Barrows is the President of R.M. Barrows, Inc. Advertising and Public Relations in Burlingame, California. In addition to doing advertising and sculpture, he is also the inventor of the "Video Enhanced Gravemarker" (a video tombstone).

He is also the author of a forthcoming novel called "Cemetery of Lies." Cemetery of Lies is a collection of intimate secret confessions, as told from beyond the grave, through video tombstones. The stories are about life and love, sex and romance, success and money, good and evil and heaven and hell, with insights and advice about almost every aspect of our lives.

He has also co-written and produced a couple of hip-hop songs called "Big Bucks" and "Run For Office" which are available on a two-song CD for $5.00 plus $2.95 shipping and handling. (CA residents add 8.25% sales tax.)
